General Manager

Everards at the Meadows, Leicestershire, LE19 2AN

About this opportunity

About the role

It's hard to get across just how excited we are about this opportunity, but if you're an experienced General Manager wanting to make your mark in a brand-new development – then keep reading!

Do you live to delight customers through leading a well-trained, engaged team and have a genuine passion for the world of hospitality? Would you like to do this each and every day at this fantastic new development and showcase everything Everards has to offer?

As you've probably heard, we're currently building Britain's newest and best-invested in brewery at our new development, Everards Meadows, 80 acres of stunning green space situated just off the M1 in Leicestershire. The 6,000 sq.ft food and drink is a key element of this exciting new chapter for Everards and you can find out all about it at www.everardsmeadows.co.uk

About us

We own over 175 pubs and other properties across the East Midlands and whilst we are currently based at Glenfield, we're confident you'll have heard about our exciting plans for our new Leicestershire home near Fosse Park.

Our pubs and our beers provide lots of fun and enjoyment for people and we think that our own team are a pretty good bunch too.
